Q1
A	A good answer describing the Ethernet system. Also good to see the protocol manages resources mentioned in the the answer It is also important and good to see, to support your answer with literature references.
B	Answer not provided
C	Again, a good start as the answer covers the definition, relevance to TSN, design criteria and testing the same for verification. Good to see the references in your answer.
Q2
A	A very good attempt on fault tree, with components are described for traceability, but it does not quite refer to the original design proposal which should be the part of Q1-C. I would like to see the answers of part B and C and also Q3, but unfortunately the answers are missing.
